SCHOOL UPDATES:

Principal's Blog

The weather continues to be lovely and students should be wearing hats during outside play time. Today we had an Earthquake Drill. Being prepared by having food and water for 72 hours and practicing Drop and Cover, and evacuation at home is important. Next week is bike, wheel and walk to school week. Hopefully we will have lots of families participating in this. Even if you drive, please consider driving and then walking a few blocks to school. I am thoroughly enjoying going into classroom and being on the playground interacting with students. There is so much focused learning happening in the classrooms. Mrs. Morrell's, Mrs. Black's, and Mrs. Kheari's class released their salmon into Goldstream River yesterday and Mrs. Gordon's and Mrs. MacIsaac's class has 9 chicks! Have a wonderful weekend.

District Boundary Review Meeting on May 7 at 7:00 p.m.

The Greater Victoria School District is in the process of reviewing school boundaries due to increasing student enrolment and limited space in some of its schools. It has been almost 20 years since the district last reviewed school catchments.

The district is sharing a new proposal with additional changes after hearing from the community during phase two of public consultation. The district is seeking input on specific issues related to individual school changes, in the third phase of consultation.

The district will host a meeting on Tuesday, May 7 at 7:00 p.m. in the school's gymnasium to invite input on the new proposed plan. This is an opportunity for the district to hear from parents and guardians about specific neighbourhood and school considerations that may affect your family.

For more information about the catchment boundary review please visit: www.sd61.bc.ca/news-events/community/catchment-boundary-review/

Child minding will be available in the school library for this meeting.
