SCHOOL UPDATES:

Principal's Blog

Yesterday, students continued to learn about the environment as they celebrated mother earth and prepared the gardens for the long winter ahead.

Tomorrow teachers will be traveling throughout the province to learn new ways to teach concepts, engage learners and support the diverse needs of students.

Friday night is our PAC Halloween. There is so much energy and fun. I am looking forward to all of the fantastic costumes and trying to figure out who is peeking through. Thank you PAC for organizing this event.

On Tuesday, Constable Rosales will be giving Halloween safety talks to the students. Please make sure that safety is first as students head out on Halloween. Please send no more than one treat in their lunch.

To stay up-to-date on messages from Mrs. Jost, follow her blog here:

Black and Orange Day

In recognition of Halloween we invite all students to wear black, orange, or a combination of both on Thursday, October 31. Students who do not wish to participate should be in regular uniform. No costumes, crazy hair, make-up, or nail polish please.
