SCHOOL UPDATES:

Principal's Blog

March ended as a lion and April will hopefully bring Spring Flowers. It is an ever changing environment. We will try and keep you up to date. Keep watching your emails from the school and the district and checking the district website.

I have heard from some families and we love hearing about all the things that families are doing. Adding pictures is also great. Please continue to share. All teachers have connected with families and will continue to do so as we move forward. At this time, as teachers continue to plan and prepare lessons and activities, please look to the district website for ideas and suggestions of what you can do until you receive specifics from the teacher.

At this time, we will not be scheduling times for parents to collect essential items for students. If you wish to pick up something, please email me at sjost@sd61.bc.ca and I will arrange a pick up time. If it is determined that there is something in your child's desk that is essential for your child's learning, we will be contacting you at a later date. Our highest priority is your health and safety and as such we believe that asking you to come into the school may jeopardize that.

If you have checked our school website, you will see that I have finally changed the pictures. Have a discussion with you child about where the bulletin boards are in the building, what they represent or demonstrate, which pieces of art they like and why, and maybe have them duplicate the style in a piece of their own.

To add a little fun, please click on the links to see close up pictures of things in our building. As a family try and figure out what the item is and perhaps where it is located in the school. Please email your answers to me at sjost@sd61.bc.ca and I will post the correct answers and who was successful at identifying the item. There are 5 pictures in total. See the links to the pictures below.
